BD. SUPVS. TO HOLD
GENERAL PLAN
HEARINGS MONDAY

The County Board of Supervisors will hold two public hearings on the proposed County General Plan on Monday in the Board Chambers.

One session, at 1:30 p.m., will cover the "Land Use Element," while at 7 p.m., all other portions of the plan will be considered by the board.

The other segments of the plan include transportation, housing, job growth, inter-governmental coordination of planning, parks and trails, policies for unincorporated lands within the urban area, policies for conservation of the natural environment, public safety, including fire protection, flood problems and earthquake safety, plus environmental health.

Copies of the General Plan draft are available in the County Planning Department on the sixth floor of the County Government Center, 70 W. Hedding St.

A 23-member committee headed by County Supervisor Gerry Steinberg prepared the new plan.
